

Poster Brief

We would like you to design a poster for the upcoming production of Macbeth.

The Audience

The audience for this production will mainly be schools and young people from across London and Birmingham, so the moodboards must connect to them. The play was written several hundred years ago, but you can choose any setting you think will engage your audience. Our production is contemporary, but you can take inspiration from any time period or anywhere you choose.

Interpretation

When a play is planned by a theatre like Shakespeare's Globe, an important task is to prepare an eye-catching poster to advertise the production and also to form the cover for the programme.

You will find a range of poster designs for this production on this page.

1. Choose one of the posters and use sticky notes to show how you think the images, the colours and the words used link to the play.
2. Now design your own poster for the play. Remember that your poster will need to be eye-catching and provide an idea of what happens in the play.

Submissions

You can choose how you would prefer to design and present your poster, either by hand or on a computer.

Take a photograph of your hand-made design or share a JPEG/PDF with us on social media. Tag us on Twitter and Instagram @The_Globe and use #PlayingShakespeare so we can see your entries. We will select some of our favourites to reshare on social media and on our website.
